

Unilateral Space Maintainer

Unilateral space maintainers are devices used to leave enough space open for permanent teeth to grow in after baby teeth are lost prematurely.

Bilateral Space Maintainer

Bilateral space maintainers are used when more than one tooth is missing on the patient. It is cemented with bands on both back teeth and a wire resting on either lower front teeth or across the palate when the patient is waiting for permanent teeth to erupt.